8 drum modules with 4 layers each. Each layer can be configured to assign certain parameters to the drum tones. Can be used to add any parameters. The output of each drum module can be either bit depth or float. Use the multiple velocity options to achieve your desired effects. A randomize layer is available in case you want a new drum every time you run the plugin. Each drum module has a High/Low crossover. There's a click like sound when activating each drum, except for the Randomize Drum Module. The output signal can be routed to a sound socket as well as to the plugin input line. Use the Dub Delay Unit with send options to sync the drum sounds with other drums. The LFO features adjustable Rate and Depth and 3 types of LFO based on the Wavetable sound engine (sine, square, saw wave). Construct Activation Code uses the Wavetable sound engine. It offers great quality and one of the lowest latency of any plugin of its kind. The Wavetable engine is capable of 256 sample-accurate waveforms with a minimum of samples. This plugin is intended for use in professional productions and doesn't require any installation process. It can be used directly with VST Hosts such as Ableton or Apple Logic. Download the plugin and edit the settings to your liking. Use the built-in Dub Delay Unit to sync the different drum layers, or you can use other software like Dubstep Therapy to achieve the same effects. [3, 92] 0 valdiv 0 0 0 1 year ago Being a karaoke/reading singer, I use this plugin for creating the background for performances and pre-recorded backing tracks. I love this plugin and it is quite simple to use. It comes with a great demo that takes you through the multiple features of the plugin - changes are really easy to achieve. So I have no hesitation to highly recommend this to other audio folks out there. [3, 90] 0 [fluxion] 0 0 0 1 year ago Well this is so not what I expected.
