Jul 5, 2017 (fuller english instructions) Jan 4, 2020 - No English or Chinese comments :(Nov 15, 2020 - No English or Chinese comments :(Dec 10, 2020 - - Note: Users on XMB/3DSV livetraders forum will read some instructions (and upvote) if they want to help the needy guys. (i.e. Help please, with comments) Q: What is the difference between "X is the name" and "X is the name of" Tell me please the difference between the following two sentences. I'm confused. If you can give me some examples that would help. The traffic light is red. The traffic light is the name of red. A: The names of things are usually singular. So "the traffic light" is the subject of "is red". "The name of" is more like a plural noun: "the names of" + "red". There are cases where a singular noun can be used as a plural noun: "an old name", "a horse", but it is usually a case of an unexplained or multiple choice. Q: Is the official API for Google Drive enough for an Android app? I am developing a web-based Android app and would like the users to store documents (text files) there. I have looked around and found that Google Drive has a very good API which I may be able to use. Is it a good enough choice for my purpose? A: That is how the official documentation says it should be used. However, they are referring to the.NET library. The Android API for Drive is more simple, and it is written in Java. It can be used to upload and download files and get the metadata of a file. However, you must implement the OAuth authentication in this API as well, as Google does not allow anonymous access to their API. A: Your question is not really about 1cb139a0ed
